Bingham Makes It Plain For Every Tobacco Man

Founder of Co-operative Selling Plan Delivers Great Address to Farmers of Madison County

Judge Robert W. Bingham, owner of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, and founder of the movement to organize a co-operative association for the handling of burley tobacco, roused a great crowd to a high pitch of enthusiasm in a speech at the court house Monday afternoon in which he declared that the wise, the sensible, the prudent thing for the growers of Madison county to do was to come in and join their neighbors.

Referring to the 50,000 members of the association as an army, Judge Bingham said:

"It is an army of construction which brings peace and happiness, not an army of destruction bringing destruction and burning and demolition. It is an army of men working to help, not one whose business it is to hurt an enemy. It is an army whose purposes is the benefit to a great people, not one whose object is the weakening of an enemy. It employs no force, for we would not have a Koestenig court or even a rough word used in presenting the purpose of this great army of peace. But it is up to one of the country's greatest constructive builders," referring to Harry P. Hanger, and he declared that if warehouse facilities for the pooled crop proved inadequate it was his purpose to employ Col. Hanger and "either $10,000 or $100,000 to build such a warehouse as might be needed, to put in his hands the money necessary and tell him to go ahead and build it."

Judge Bingham told of the preliminary work of the organization, of the difficulties that had been overcome and said that the Madison growers are not now being asked to help organize something but were being given the opportunity to join something already organized, not something just being started, but something which was an established unit.

Judge Bingham told of the plight the California prime growers found themselves in when they stayed out of the organization, were made the victims of you now to consider and to consider well, what shall be your position should you remain out of this movement."

Judge Bingham asked the outsiders where they expected to get help financially and said that the growers in the organization not only would have the support of the bankers of Kentucky, but of the federal reserve system and the war finance corporation.

Judge Bingham told of the proposition of the Louisville banks to lend the association a million and a half dollars recently and said that no sooner had the news been published that a big bank at Cincinnati offered to loan the association twice as much and rather protested against being denied a share in the business of the association. He said that representatives of three of the largest concerns in New York had been in Kentucky recently seeking a share of the association's business and anxious to lend it money.

Referring to the way the farmers sell their tobacco, Judge Bingham asked what would happen to the business of the merchant who offered his goods in the same way, by laying them out on the floor of a warehouse and selling them to the public at what ever price was offered them. That merchant would go broke, Bingham told of the work

BROUGHT TWO SILVER CUPS HOME

Madison County Fox Hounds Do Well At Southern Ohio Meet At Gallipolis

Madison county fox hunters did exceptionally well considering their limited representation, at the annual meeting of the Southern Ohio Fox Hunters' Association at Gallipolis, Ohio, last week. S. B. Berryman, of College Hill, this county, returned with a hand some silver cup won by his dog, Arp, by string in the endurance stake, and a handsome cup and several other honors which were taken by a dog owned by Dillard Hill, and two owned by Maupin Bros. of this county, which also took along.

Mr. Berryman says that the meet was a big success in every way and largely due to the work of President Arthur Beagle, of Racine, Ohio, who is well known to all Keurney fox hunters.

There was a fine show of extra good hounds, and the competition was keen in all the contests. In addition to the handsome cup won by his own hound, Tinney, by Scott, owned by Dillard Hill, was awarded second honors in speed and driving and third in hunting and trailing.

Both of the dogs sent by Maupin Bros. are by the famous sire String, Liz, one of the best from the Maupin kennel, won the silver cup for highest general average. Turp was second in hunting and driving and third in endurance.

Kaiser To Wed Again

Berlin, Dec. 5.—Newspaper reports here say former Emperor William has decided to marry again and the lady of his choice is the widow of a high officer from Flensburg, who was killed in the war.

had been done for the tobacco growers in the organization of the movement, with never a reference to his own hard work and devotion to the movement of time and money and energy, the audience gave him generous applause.

Judge Bingham's address here probably is the last of the campaign. When it was decided to reopen the books of the association, Chairman Bingham asked that Madison be given help the final week of the campaign and it was decided to ask Judge Bingham as the most effective speaker of the organization, to deliver the address beginning the week drive for signatures in Madison.

He made one of the most impressive addresses ever heard in the court house, with never a reference to anything except the subject in hand, with no attempt at entertainment, but with an earnestness of purpose that won the heart of every man who heard him.

Judge Bingham visited the loom plant of the Richmond Daily Register while in the city and was shown the plant, one of the most modern of its kind in any city of like size in the country. He was greatly pleased to find the interest in the burley association so keen in Madison and said that it augured well for the result of the drive in the coming year.

Judge Bingham closed his address with a powerful appeal to the growers of Madison to stand together. He pointed to the small amount of tobacco left out of the pool in other counties and to the extreme improbability that there would be enough of the pooled tobacco to keep the market here open. He said that the prudent thing for the growers who had not yet signed to do the sensible thing was to come in while the books were open and enjoy the benefits that would accrue to those who stand together in the association for living prices and better conditions in the burley district.

The county court room was crowded to the doors and a hundred or more persons were unable to obtain entrance to the room. Another hundred or so stood about the walls and even in the aisles for almost the entire length of the building. As Judge Bingham told of the work

FRIENDS OF POOL BUY MADISON HOUSE

Richmond's tobacco situation, which has been one of the "sore" spots in the burley pool campaign, was somewhat simplified Monday when control of the Madison tobacco warehouse was secured by members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association.

An announcement was made that the interests of Warfield Bennett and Garrett Wilson had been purchased by local member of the Burley Association. This purchase gave friends of the Burley Association control of this warehouse and it will not be opened for reception of tobacco and sales on December 15, as previously announced.

In his address at the court house Monday afternoon, Judge Bingham told of the taking over of this warehouse and said that if additional space were needed to handle the crop of this district Col. Hanger and others would be called upon to build more warehouses. This statement was greeted with prolonged applause.

It is understood that Messrs. Bennett and Wilson were paid par for their holdings in the Madison House.

WOMAN DEADLOCKS ARBUCKLE JURY

San Francisco, Dec. 5.—After forty-one hours of deliberation the seven men and five women which tried Roscoe Arbuckle on charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe were deadlocked Sunday when they were unable to agree on a verdict.

The jury was taken into court at 8 o'clock request of the defense, and after a disagreement and asked that it be discharged. The foreman announced that the single ballot stood 10 to 2, but he did not say whether the majority favored conviction or acquittal.

Court officials said, however, that the following record acquittal throughout. The case is set for retrial January 9.

In a statement following the jury's return Arbuckle declared that the five women jurors had prevented his acquittal, "because she refused to allow her fellow jurors to discuss the evidence or reason with her and would not give any reason for her attitude." He did not name the juror.

One of the jury issued a signed statement saying that one of the women jurors, who was in the minority, refused to consider the evidence from the beginning and declared that "she would cast her ballot and would not change it until hell froze over."

LUCIEN BURNAM IN BIG BOOZE RAID

Two Cars of Bottled in Bond Whisky From Bardstown Nabbed At Brooklyn

Lucien A. Burnam, of Richmond, was one of the state prohibition agents out of the Lexington office who made a fruitful raid on automobiles, believed to be returning from Bardstown, at the Jessamine county end of the Brooklyn bridge over the Kentucky river late at night last week. Four men were arrested, two cars confiscated and 420 quarts of bottled in bond whisky seized. Officers working with Mr. Burnam on the raid were F. G. Fields, J. D. W. Collins, J. T. Tarter and W. H. Kimaire.

The four men alleged to be occupying the whisky running automobile are V. W. Burton, 131 Jefferson street, P. S. Neal, 181 North Ashland avenue, Lexington; W. D. Shields, of Troy, and G. H. Minter, of Wilmore.

The five prohibition agents went to Brooklyn bridge Thursday night and halted their automobile at the Jessamine county end of the bridge and waited for developments. The only two cars that crossed the bridge after their arrival were halted and both contained whisky.

Burton and Neil were in the first car, a Buick roadster, and several shots were fired at the wheels of the machine before it was stopped, altho the agents were standing on the end of the bridge in the glare of the approaching lights and regarded the occupants as top.

When the carster was searched it was found to contain ten burley bags packed with quart bottles of liquor, each being wrapped in paper. Burton is said to have told the officers that he purchased the liquor at Bardstown for $750. Neal claimed he did not know anything about the whisky but was merely riding from Bardstown to Lexington with Burton.

After waiting an hour, following the seizure of the machine the officers stopped another automobile, a Buick touring car containing twenty quarts of moonshine liquor, and occupied by Fields and Minter. When agent boarded the running car of the car to direct them to a place to park, the driver put on a burst of speed in an attempt to get away and the officer was forced to draw his pistol to stop the driver, it was said. The bottles containing the moonshine liquor were smashed on rocks on the river bank. Shields told the officers, they said, that they purchased the liquor in Nelson county near Bardstown.

All labels and stamps had been removed from the red whisky bottles and officers said they were unable to identify the brand or determine what distillery it came from.

MEN AND WOMEN OF RICHMOND!

New Tonic Food

Perhaps you are one of the thousands of men and women today who are run down, tired out and "peopless." You sleep poorly, are easily fatigued and suffice from a high nervous tension. Or you are irritable, easily annoyed by the petty details of your daily task, and approach your work in the morning with a listlessness and dull dread instead of vim and vigorous enthusiasm.

Such people, who feel themselves on the verge of a nervous breakdown, attribute it to over-work. As a matter of fact this is often far from the truth.

Science has proved that the human brain is so constituted that it can stand a tremendous amount of work—in fact is stimulated by it. But it must have the co-operation of a sound, well nourished healthy body. Nine times out of ten those who think they are suffering from over-work are really suffering from under-nourishment.

They are not the victims of "nerve" but of Malnutrition.

What is this "Malnutrition" we hear so much about nowadays? Not the lack of food but the lack of a balanced ration, lack of the vital elements in the food we eat—the inability of our food to supply the body with those properties most essential for its growth and to sustain life.

Vitamines—the curious growth promoting, health-giving elements found chiefly in milk, eggs and yeast, leaf vegetables, eggs and the outer covering of rice, wheat, and other cereals, are often eliminated from the modern diet because of scientific milling and ov-

To encourage such reading give them a Globe-Wernicke Bookcase for "their very own."

Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases

Two or three sections with base and top make a good beginning—and as the child's taste grows for more and better books other sections can be added.

All Globe-Wernicke Sections are fitted with dust-proof glass receding doors. They are substantially made in oak or mahogany and beautifully finished to match surroundings. When moving or cleaning the sections can be moved, one at a time, with the books in them. Start your children towards success—cultivate the reading habit while they are young—encourage them with a few good books and a Globe-Wernicke Bookcase.

Ask for catalog or call and see our various styles.

WOMAN'S CHANGE AMAZING FRIENDS

Mrs. Adkins' Neighbors Never Expected To See Her On Her Feet Again

"Tandie has given me new life and strength and I doubt if in my life I have ever been in such splendor as I am right now," said Mrs. Ruth L. Adkins, Earls Station, Westmoreland, W. Va.

"After a severe spell of pneumonia about a year ago, I seemed unable to get my strength back. My stomach was all upset and I was so nervous I never got more than an hour or two of sleep at night. I was almost a physical wreck and I began to fear that I would never know another well day."

"The change that Tandie has made in my condition is nothing short of remarkable. My friends were all amazed at my recovery as they never expected to see me on my feet again. I recommend Tandie from the bottom of my heart."

Tandie is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son, and leading drugists.

You Can Win $1000

How Many Objects In This Picture Begin With the Letter 'C'?

The above picture contains a number of visible objects beginning with the letter "C." It is a good look at them—they are all sorts of "C" words. Noticing is evident; you don't have to look them up inside down. Make a list of all the visible objects in the picture, the names of which begin with the letter "C." Have the whole family join in—see who can find the most. The first 100 persons to submit the fifteen best lists submitted. The answer having the largest number of objects shown in the picture starting with the letter "C" will be awarded first prize, second prize, etc.

Everybody Join In

The Louisville HERALD announces a game that's different and in a way unique and gratifying to the 100,000 folks who take part. It's a simple game, yet it's a great game, perfectly plain, yet it's difficult to describe. It's a game of skill. Your ability to find "C" words determines the prize you win. Give each of them pencil and paper and see who finds the most. We will award prizes to the first 100 persons to submit the fifteen best lists.

Open To All—Costs Nothing To Try

The HERALD invites YOU, and your family, to join in this fascinating puzzle game. It doesn't make a speck of difference whether you are 6 or 60 years old. Here's your chance to have some dandy fun! Wait until you have tried our puzzle and you will say "GREAT!" The most fun I've had in a long long time! Write down the "C" words you have in mind RIGHT NOW! Then study this picture for MORE and when your list is made up send it to The Louisville HERALD and try for the big cash prize.

Observe These Rules

First—any man woman boy or girl who is not in the employ of The Louisville Herald or a member of an employee's family may submit an answer. It costs nothing to try.

Second—all answers must be mailed by December 15th to Myles D. Nelson, Puzzle Manager, Louisville Herald.

Third—answers must be written on one side of the paper only and each "C" word numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, etc. as listed. Write your full name and address in the upper right-hand corner of the sheet. If you desire to write anything else use a separate sheet.

Fourth—Only words found in the English dictionary will be counted. No words hyphenated, composed or oblique. The article "a" and "an" plural "are" and "is" the singular is used to denote "C" word; the plural can not be counted as another word and vice versa.

Fifth—Words of the same spelling but different meanings, even though used to denote different objects, are to be counted as two entirely different words. However, any part of an object may also be named.

Sixth—The answer having the largest and nearest correct list of visible objects shown in the picture correctly will be awarded first prize. A second prize will be awarded to any one whose list is next in size. Third prize will be awarded to any one whose list is next in size. However, no one group outside of the family may receive more than one of any group outside of the family.

Eighth—in the event of a tie for any prize offered equal amounts will be awarded.

Ninth—Subscriptions to the newspaper will be accepted. However, no new subscription will be accepted for the $1,000 and other maximum awards unless at least one new subscription must be sent in. A new subscriber will be given one free copy of the paper.

Tenth—No new subscriptions will be accepted for the $250 or $100.

Eleventh—Participants may cooperate in answering the puzzle, but only one prize will be awarded to any one group outside of the family.

Twelfth—In the event of a tie for any prize offered equal amounts will be awarded.

75C ACRE LAND NOW BRINGS IN FORTUNE

Franklin, Ky., Dec. 5.—James Poteet, farm hand for Jim Pugh, had an ambition to own a home.
H. L. Davis had a 15-acre tract in the northern end of Simpson county, the sole infinite purpose in creating which, he said one day, was "to hold the earth together." Poteet saved $10 from his meager wage and offered it for the fifteen acres. "You've brought a farm," was Davis' reply and a deed was duly executed.
That was some years ago, but Poteet never had the money to start a dwelling and he would have been suspected of mental unbalance had he attempted to till it. Recently a geologist came along and saw below the surface what neither Davis nor Poteet had even dreamed of. Poteet agreed to lease the land which cost him all of 75 cents an acre.
The second well, which came in Friday, is flowing 400 barrels per day. Well No. 3 is being drilled.
Poteet's daily income has mounted to fifty dollars. He is destitute to be one of the richest men in several states. His friends regard as the most remarkable feature of a true story rivaling any fiction the fact that Poteet is still a poor man and still working for the push without a rise in wages or weeks from sun to sun. In no minuscule way has his mode of life been changed, with the solitary exception that he has more time to go to the bank. He receives one-eighth of all production and experts believe the desired fifteen acres is the cap of one of the most sensational oil fields in the world.

Olive Hill, Dec. 5.—Judge Albert J. Counts witness to the killing of Dr. Harvey L. Biggs, 45, for which Charles Duvall, 42, lithographer, has been indicted, has received an anonymous letter demanding that he "drop out" of the case, followed by a threat of violence should he fail to heed the warning. Judge Counts called to Duvall after he fired the first shot from the shotgun with which the killing was done, ordering him not to fire again, but before he could interfere Duvall had reloaded and fired, according to the testimony the Judge gave at the inquest. Subsequent to the inquest, Judge Counts was employed as an attorney in the case. The letter has been turned over to the postal authorities, who will endeavor to trace the author. The killing of Dr. Biggs
